NEW - KEY LOG ROLL – NEW FUNDAMENTALS

1. The act of spinning on a log in the water.
2. Log rolling is an aquatic sport and recreational activity in which participants use foot work, core strength, and balance to stay on top of a spinning log in the water.
3. Do not dive off the Key Log.
4. Stand only in the traction areas of the Key Log. Do not stand on the stripes, smooth areas of the log, or Training Wheels, all of which are slippery when wet.
5. Take small steps.
6. Keep your feet in motion, do not look at your feet or out in front of you. Keep your gaze focused on the opposite end of the log.
7. Bend your knees. When you feel off balance, check your knees! Bending your knees will automatically put you back into the proper stance.
8. Engage your core. Before the log begins to roll, tighten your stomach muscles to prepare them to begin working.
9. Be aware of your hand/arm position.
  - a. The hands, arms and neck area reveal a lot about how balanced and/or relaxed you are. Learn to recognize the difference between tense and relaxed and make adjustments as needed.
  - b. If your arms fly up and back, you are off balance and leaning with your upperbody. You are probably standing too straight and taking too big of steps. Bend your knees, tuck your core and take small, quick steps.
